CHARMING The Shambles as it looks today

BY NADA FARHOUD

A WOMAN wades along York's historic Shambles in an artist's impression of floods caused by climate change.

The hard-hitting image is part of the Mirror's Vanishing UK special investigation to sound the alarm about rising sea levels.

We also reveal today the UK places most at risk of being damaged or changed for ever by global warming.

If we don't act now
this is our future
